The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

Claims 1-4,7,9,10,17,19,20 and 23-25 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Carson in view of Lantz. Carson shows the claimed device with the exception of the ratcheting load binder having an elongated member with a connecting member. Lantz shows a ratcheting load binder 124 having an elongated member 136 with a connecting member for connecting to an anchor 128 having a loop 130. It would have been obvious to one of ordinary skill in the art at the time the invention was made to modify Carson to comprise a ratcheting member, elongated member and connecting member, as taught by Lantz, for anchoring his device to the loop 510.

Claims 1-4,7,9,10,17-20 and 23-25 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Flaherty in view of Lantz. Flaherty shows the claimed device with the exception of the ratchet, anchoring device. Lantz shows an anchoring device comprising a ratcheting load binder 124 having an elongated member 136 with a connecting member connected to an anchor 128 having a loop 130. It would have been obvious to one of ordinary skill in the art at the time the invention was made to modify Flaherty to comprise a ratchet anchoring device, as taught by Lantz, for stabilizing his device.

Claims 2,12 and 22 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Carson or Flaherty and Lantz, as applied to claims 1,9 and 17 above, and further in view of Orr. Orr shows the use of a hook 63 to facilitate attachment to a loop 37. It would have been obvious to one of ordinary skill in the art at the time the invention was made to provide the strap, as taught by Lantz, with a hook, as taught by Orr, to facilitate releasable attachment to the loops 510 or 130, respectively.

Applicant's arguments filed 8/3/07 have been fully considered but they are not persuasive. Applicant's arguments with respect to the individual references are not persuasive. With respect to the combination of either Carson or Flaherty as modified by Lantz, applicant argues that there is no motivation for the combination. It is noted that Lantz teaches the claimed ratcheting and elongation members for applicant's disclosed purpose, thus Lantz is an analogous art and it is deemed proper for one of ordinary skill to appreciate the teachings of analogous arts to resolve the differences at hand, furthermore, KSR forecloses the argument that a SPECIFIC teaching, suggestion, or motivation is required to support a finding of obviousness.

THIS ACTION IS MADE FINAL. Applicant is reminded of the extension of time policy as set forth in 37 CFR 1.136(a).

A shortened statutory period for reply to this final action is set to expire THREE MONTHS from the mailing date of this action. In the event a first reply is filed within TWO MONTHS of the mailing date of this final action and the advisory action is not mailed until after the end of the THREE-MONTH shortened statutory period, then the shortened statutory period will expire on the date the advisory action is mailed, and any extension fee pursuant to 37 CFR 1.136(a) will be calculated from the mailing date of the advisory action. In no event, however, will the statutory period for reply expire later than SIX MONTHS from the mailing date of this final action.
